Triad

Southwestern High School

Community Unit District No. 9

Piasa, Illinois

A school year comes and goes.
A small segment of a student's life flashes by.
Every turn reflects a time,
an association, a memory, a treasured moment.
Here at Southwestern, the unforgettable
moments are held as memories
in the hearts and minds of the student body.
We are aware of a time
so filled with life, spirit, and knowledge;
a time which changed and turned
as we worked late on last minute decorations,
crammed for exams, cheered our teams,
and gave precious time and energy
for our organizations.
There were times when we brought the wrong
book to class, stood in long lunch lines, and got in trouble in the halls.
There were times when we just couldn't seem to concentrate on school work, yet the football game held all
of our attention.
No matter what the memory, 1970 was
A TIME TO REMEMBER!

Dedication

The 1970 TRIAD Staff takes great pleasure in honoring Miss Jean Hutchison and Mr. David Fischer.

Miss Hutchison has tackled the English department of Southwestern for five years. Each year she has met her students as a friend and a teacher. She meets you with a smile and some lines that are just corny enough to make you want to strike up a conversation with her. Her time belongs to anyone whom she can help or listen to at that particular moment. For three years she was the sponsor for our school's yearbook. It took courage to walk into a room of inexperienced help with pictures scattered among them and not turn around and walk out again. She gave up Saturdays for not just a few hours but for the entire day. Many meetings lasted longer than "Hutch" expected them to, but under no circumstances did she whimper about the long hours. The past few years, she has gathered much information for the formation of an American Studies Program. She was instrumental in setting up a schedule for the students and in helping to set the program on its feet.

Mr. Fischer has really worked with our band. He has withstood the blast of sour notes and chewing gum for seven years and has managed to stay on the side of sanity. During the summer and fall, Mr. Fischer can be seen with his Marching Piasa Birds at parades and football games. As winter begins, Mr. Fischer presents his Pep Band in fullest splendor. The basketball games and pep rallys wouldn't be the same without the pep band. Tulips and daffodills are not far ahead when Mr. Fischer brings out his Concert Band which is guaranteed to chase the raindrops away and bring out the sun. Mr. Fischer has taken our band to such places as the Alton Halloween Parade, Veil-Prophet Parade, and the Brighton Centennial. Mr. Fischer also works with new high school band members, encouraging them with a warm smile and words of success.

Miss Hutchison and Mr Fischer receive respect and admiration from both the students and the faculty. They meet students with a spark of enthusiasm which is rapidly contagious. Therefore, the 1970 TRIAD Staff takes great pleasure in dedicating this yearbook to you, Miss Hutchison and to you, Mr. Fischer.

A school day consists of eight hours spent in numerous activities. Assignments and class work fill a majority of these hours, but there is another part of a student's life.
Outside activities such as dances
and banquets are also important to students
as school activities help to shape
a student into a responsive individual.
The homecoming bonfire warms student's spirits,
and the various dances relax
thought-filled minds.
Hunger is cut short when banquet tables
come into sight and students are honored for various reasons.
Rags turn into the richest gowns when
boy meets girl on Prom night.
Graduation breaks the Seniors final physical ties with Southwestern and makes 1970
A TIME TO REMEMBER!

"You're choking me!"

"All present and accounted for!"

"It's sing-a-long time."

"Criticism vs. Creativity."

Personalities . . . so many, so different,
so interesting. People are the diversifying factor of every institution; they are the difference between a school, and
merely a brick building,
concrete walks, and a parking lot. Each school is identified with its people, and every person is influenced by its atmosphere. Student life begins that first day where the student is just another face. It moves through lectures and labs, games and gab sessions, dates and disappointments. Finally through desire and determination, the interchange of ideas, the fun and friendships, the individual begins to grow. And for him, 1970 becomes
A TIME TO REMEMBER!

School is made up of
libraries, books, classrooms, and athletics.
There were nights when we sat high in the bleachers watching our Piasa Birds bring in the winning touchdown.
Memories flash back to gloves too thin,
and legs turned into pillars of ice.
As the year went on, we went inside to watch
the Birds master the basketball and the mat. Spectators played along with the teams
and experienced with them all the tension,
the pride and even the heartaches.
Puddles and soggy ground met our track and
baseball stars, without dampening spirits.
Our Birds ran, vaulted, and smacked
their opponents with everything they had.
No matter which team, the Southwestern
Birds helped to make 1970
A TIME TO REMEMBER!

Organizations . . . the extras that fill the school year. They are as individual as the people who compose them. They exist for varied purposes-to honor, to serve, to recognize, for expression, for future careers, and for social activity. Each has his own reason for joining an organization. There are the joiners-those who turn to a full activity record and carry the load, but still find time for more. There are the status seekers-those who join, yet do relatively little. Whatever the reason for joining, organizations can turn out to be your whole high school career or a portion of it. Anyway you use them, organizations make the year A TIME TO REMEMBER.

American Studies

It doesn't look much like a revolution, but that's what these girls are supposed to be visually expressing.

"If you say that once more."

Did you ever see teachers so quiet? These three are judging skits.

"...I'll remember it..."

"Do you know what we're supposed to be doing?"

"I thought up a good idea last week; how much more do you expect from me?"

"Where did you ever get such a corny idea about war? Haven't you been listening at all to the discussion?"

"I honestly can't think about it any more today."

"Be sure to get all this down cause I'll never get through it again - let alone remember all I've said.

NOTICES

The first day of high school . . . can I make it or should I give up now? . . . Why did that senior knock my books all over the hall? . . . My first day behind the wheel of the driver's education car . . . I hope it's still in one piece when I leave it!
. . . Ah, the great life of a Super Soph!
. . . What do you mean no one would buy a magazine;
Do you want to have a Prom? . . . Soda . . . I have to sell soda? . . . My class ring? Who wants it?
. . . Insert tab A in slot Z? Are you sure this will turn into a Prom? . . . The last football game . . .
the last tournament . . . Should I get a job or go to college? . . . What do you mean what's my class rank? . . . Hey, I just got measured for my cap and gown . . . graduation . . . . there it is . . . 1970 . . .
a time for every purpose under Heaven . . .

To one of the greatest teachers I've ever had and good friend. You are one of the very few who has won all my respect in every way. I've enjoyed working with you and I'll never forget your thanks for a Good Senior year. It wouldn't been the same with out you

Love
